

October
16th &
17th

Sheffield

Become Your School's Resident Inspector

The course is designed to equip participants with skills similar to those used by newly trained Ofsted inspectors. Each area is explored in an imaginative and realistic setting so the entire inspection process is covered, ensuring that all delegates get a full in-depth understanding of the whole process. You will experience everything through the eyes of the inspector, ensuring that you are better prepared for any future inspection.

November
3rd

Sheffield

How To Write A Highly Effective Self-Evaluation Document

The focus of this training course is on enabling school leaders to shape their self-evaluation summary to clearly identify where their school is at, as well as identifying the main improvement priorities. Undertaken utilising simple processes for whole-school and departmental self-evaluation writing, this course will increase confidence in writing a high quality effective summary self-evaluation document.

November
6th

Manchester

Managing Your Ofsted Inspection

This course is designed to ensure that participants understand what needs to be prepared for in advance of an inspection and how senior leaders can influence and manage the process of an inspection. A range of top tips on helping leaders to have greater control of the inspection process will be provided by an experienced Ofsted lead inspector.

November
20th &
21st

London

Become Your School's Resident Inspector

November
29th

Middlesbrough

Using Your School's Performance Data As An Inspector Would

This training session will enable school leaders and middle leaders to understand how data in Raise and the new ASP is used by inspectors to identify lines of enquiry in an inspection. It will also look at how these lines of enquiry can be used by middle and senior leaders within their school development plans and address questions that may be asked during an inspection.

November
30th

Leeds

Using Your School's Performance Data As An Inspector Would

This full-day training session will enable school leaders and middle leaders to understand how data in Raise and the new ASP is used by inspectors to identify lines of enquiry in an inspection. It will also look at how these lines of enquiry can be used by middle and senior leaders within their school development plans and address questions that may be asked during an inspection.

November
30th

Manchester

Securing Outstanding Governance At Your Next Inspection

Learn to navigate the new 'Analyse School Performance (RAISE)' system and begin to interpret and analyse the school performance information. You will evaluate the strengths and developmental needs of your governing board, and review a range of self-evaluation tools to use and begin to create a governing board action plan. You will be able to evidence your impact as a governing board using the inspection criteria for effective governance.

[Click to view
more courses](#)